We are building a brighter future for children with mental illness

Community Health of South Florida, Inc. embarked on a $5.5 million capital campaign to build the first comprehensive Children's Crisis Center in southern Miami-Dade County. Construction has begun as we are less than $258,000 away from meeting this goal. Your donation is building a haven where children with severe mental illness can heal. The 11,400 square-foot, state-of-the-art facility will have a 24-hour in-patient unit with the capability of accommodating up to 20 children at any given time (1,000 annually) and will also house outpatient services for efficient continuity of care. The center is designed with a residential feel for optimal functionality and therapeutic environment. It will house a dedicated comprehensive medical team to include board-certified child and adolescent psychiatrist who will care for children up to age 17 regardless of their financial status. Since 1971, CHI has been a beacon of hope for people of all ages by providing comprehensive primary and behavioral healthcare. We are committed to improving specialized care for children in South Florida who are experiencing severe mental health illnesses.

Brick By Brick we are building this much-needed facility and building a brighter future for our children.

As a CHI celebrity ambassador, Miami Heat Legend Glen Rice has made it his mission to spread awareness about the impact CHI is making in our community. Rice is a three-time NBA All-Star and made 1,559 three-point field goals during his 15-year career.
